Atomic Forest

The series takes place far in the future. The Earth witnessed an atomic explosion more than hundred years ago and on the ruins of human civilization, generations of mutant animals made rational by evolution and radiation appeared. The main focus of the series is on tribes of bears and rabbits. The problems and questions examined in this serial have a very human aspect to them: social, domestic, sexual, political, ethnical, and species' relationships.

Bump

What lacks a modern person taking part in political life? He lacks a smile! Bumb presents a forgotten but highly acute genre of political satire. Political clashes inside the state should be presented with a smile; otherwise one may just lose himself. Bumb who is the main character of the series snatches the sharpest moments in the rhythm of modern life and carries them to the point of absurdity. Once you listen to her advice to the president and members of the government, you will at once feel the longed-for smile on your face.

Lucky!

The whole wild story of the Lucky! series is about a contemporary family. The heroes are young Tima, Lucy the mom, Misha the papa, and Whalie the dachshund – and we shouldn't leave out their houseplant by the name of Ivan the Waterlogged. Now, what was the idea behind a family previously? And what was the use of it anyway? So that Papa could drag home the mammoth he walloped and have Mom serve it up for lunch? Well, this family is not quite like that, and there will be no mammoth for lunch. Papa might get lost in a stand of three pine trees and take three days to find his way back home. And lunch won't necessarily be waiting. Mama doesn't care very much for cooking. She would rather read poetry. ## Magic Hills

In the depth of the boundless wood there is a big lake. Around this lake the Hills are also located. On the first, it's winter; on the second, summer; on the third, fall; and, on the fourth, spring. And all the animals living on the Hills also correspond to its own season. For example, Elka, the polar bear cub, lives on the Winter hill, and the hippopotamus Umba lives on the Summer one. It suited them for quite a while and for a long time they didn't know about each other at all. Boring, of course. Each series is a small story about some adventure in a chain of general events.

Masha And The Bear

"Masha and the Bear" is a favorite series not only for children, but also for adults. Every single adult recognizes their own child in Masha as she asks a million questions and generally turns everything on end. The setting for the series is a clearing in the woods and most of the action generally happens around Bear's house. Apart from "Masha and the Bear", there are numerous other characters: curious squirrels. the smart rabbit, hedgehog, the always hungry wolves, the cold female bear, panda, tiger, and others. Many episodes of "Masha and the Bear" introduce new characters. The concept of the series, which was suggested by art director Oleg Kuzovkov, turned out to be so successful that it was appreciated by not only children, but parents as well.

Masha's Tales

This is the feature film adaptation of the children's fairy tale told in first person by Masha, the protagonist of the cartoon series "Masha and the Bear". The little girl re-tells famous fairy tales in her own way, sometimes confusing them with each other, imagining something, and expressing her attitude towards the fairy tale heros' action. As a result, the viewer sees a completely new, "child's version" of a known story. But most importantly, Masha draws a moral after telling her story.

Qumi-Qumi

Jomanaaaaaaa!!! Anything goes - and everything does - on the wild and whimsical planet Qumi-Qumi, as hapless shaman Jooga and dim-witted soldier Shoomadon compete for the heart of beautiful young Yoosi. This very original new slapstick series from Moscow mavericks Toonbox Animation is crammed with visual imagination, comedy, and heart - with the infectiously fun tribal language of Qumi- Qumi thrown in as a bonus. Hop on board for a jaunty joy ride through magical jungles, levitating beauty parlors, armored igloos, solarcharged sheep and Elvis! With a look and humor that are pure 21st century, Oumi-Oumi owes as much to Peter Max as it does to the slapstick antics of Tom and Jerry and Krazy Kat. A retinatickling romp for all ages. Lakkalakka!

Sabantuy

These series show different competitions, games and contests of the people's favorite holiday - Sabantui. Characters find themselves in various humorous situations, but thanks to their cleverness and smarts they manage to successfully overcome all obstacles.

Tishka the Little Locomotive

We appear in a city of little locomotives. They have fun, chat, study, go to work, and, generally, do everything that ordinary people do. Among the little locomotives, there are old, very smokey coal engines as well as young, electric engines to which our main character belongs. Tishka is a very young little locomotive, to be more exact, an electric engine. While his mother and father work, he goes to school, studies, plays with his friends, and finds out many new things. How to scare fear, what is poetry, and how dreams come true. Tishka finds out all of this from his own experience.

Zhiriki

Zhiriki is about a group of funny little gyroplanes, always ready for adventure. The main characters are three brothers - Zhorik, Zhirik, and Zhurik. They own a small cafe. It's not very popular, but it attracts adventures like a magnet. The action takes place in a huge floating metropolis of airports, with landing and take-off strips connected by airways. There is ground somewhere below, and highways full of cars, but those have become city jungles. The Zhiriki are not welcome there, and anyway even they are a little bit intimidated by the wild vehicles below. Somewhere above the airport there is space, with rockets and satellites – the Zhiriki must not go there, either, for they wouldn't be able to navigate. This series takes place in a world inhabited by all kinds of machinery, a variety of appliances and equipment. There are no people. It's almost as if they never existed.

The Best experimental animated film;
The Best animation video installation and other awards and mentions.

Entry forms, regulations, contacts and the information on the previous editions one can find at the official site

www.mutivision.ru

Multivision festival aims to create an innovative dialogue with its audience, to integrate animation art in the environment of the modern megapolis. Multivision is known by its open-air summer projects: the public screening of the special competition programs at the raised drawbridges on the Neva River in the center of St.Petersburg, from 2007. The festival program is projected on the giant screen 400 square meters attached to the bridge surface. From 2011 street cinema competition called graFFFest is a part of main festival, it is held in summer on evident weather reasons. In 2012 it gathered 30 000 spectators. The public screens project of Multivision festival will be developed further in 2013: the screening of the competitive program of the animated films will be held in 2 cities simultaneously: at the Troitsky Bridge, Saint-Petersburg, Russia and Magere Brug Amsterdam, the Netherlands, Screens on the drawbridges in both cities will be connected by telebridge forming the unique MultiBridge Saint-Petersburg-Amsterdam, The partner of the Multivision Festival in Amsterdam will be the International Animation Festival Klik!

The "bridge edition" will be held the 19 July 2013, more information and entry forms on www.multivision.ru and www.grafffest.ru
